

New Jersey's consumer protection laws should not be weakened. Telemarketers are and intrusionto the lives of people in their homes. They should not be able to call unsolicited. People deserve their privacy.